Edsel Ford Claims Even Lower Prices For Autos Are Ahead

"I will not be satisfied until our plant is self-sufficient," said Edsel Ford in an interview recently. "We make nearly everything that goes into our cars and tractors. We will produce everything ourselves, except tires. Buying the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad was a step in that direction. The railroad was an adventure—and it's beginning to be a profitable adventure."

"To get maximum efficiency we will make our own steel," he said. "We have our own mines and blast furnaces and coal mines, and we are going into cotton." Edsel sees an even lower-price car in the future. "He was asked when the reduction might come. 'Not now,' he said. 'But just wait a few years. We haven't got automobile building down to the science we hope to have it. The bottom has not been hit yet. Economy in production is the big thing. That means do everything yourself. That's what we're doing.'"

"So far we have made 5,200,000 cars. And right now production is ahead of all records. I'm proud of that—as president of the company. This month we are making 4,350 cars a day. And we are doing it with 15,000 fewer men than it required to turn out 3,800 cars a day last year. Then, we had 55,000 men. I think the secret is that everybody is over the hysteria of abnormal prosperity. We all have our heads in our work."

"The motor car isn't the only thing that keeps the busy. There is the tractor, and the gasoline trolley. And a new speed boat we are building. We are using duraluminum, the German metal, in the speed boat, which will have 1000 horsepower. It will be 32 feet long and 60 miles an hour."

"We are experimenting a lot with duraluminum now that we can make it in this country under an arrangement with the alien property custodian. It is lighter, and it has the good qualities of steel and iron, though aluminum is the basis. Eventually it may solve motor car problems."

"The White Rider," Mystery Picture, At Lyric Saturday

An unusual strong dramatic story is contained in the five-reel special feature "The White Rider," which will be the attraction at the Lyric theatre on Saturday. The stars in this play are Joe Moore, a brother of Tom, Owen and Matt Moore, and Ellen Seidewick formerly leading lady with Eddie Polo. The scenes of this picture are laid in and around a mining camp in the great Southwest. The story has to do with a gang of unscrupulous men who by trick, deceit and force attempt to wrest a rich mining claim from an old prospector and his young daughter. When it appears that nothing can stop the desperadoes from their evil act, "The White Rider" appears. This mysterious character who for some time has been the subject of speculation among the

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Trading during today's short stock market session was subjected to conflicting elements, the further advance of rails being counterbalanced by heaviness of foreign oils.

Gains of 1 to 3 points among transportation were led by Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, based largely on that road's excellent annual statement. Pacific added to recent advances and St. Paul represented the stronger group. Pools were active in chemicals, fertilizers and domestic oils, effecting temporary gains of 1 to 2 points, but the usual leaders among steels, equipments and motors moved within comparatively narrow bounds.

Selling of Royal Dutch, which suffered an extreme setback of 5 points, attracted American Petroleum and General Asphalt, these issues reacting 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points. Sumatra tobacco was under steady pressure and contributed to the irregular tone. Sales, 255,000 shares.

The bond market retained its recent active and strong trend, with further heavy dealings in Liberty issues, mostly at advances. Similar tendencies were shown by convertible railway issues.

Trading in foreign exchange was prefatory, aside from sterling and francs. The Greek rate was heavy and Far Eastern quotations were confusing. Japanese bills fell back again while the Chinese or Shanghai quotations made another advance, presumably on further buying of silver here and in London.

Weekly reviews of mercantile authorities were in keeping with recent hopeful forecasts. The buying demand in wholesale lines showed an increase over the preceding week and was much larger than in the corresponding period of 1920, collections also improving.

The ending is so rich in surprise that it would be unfair to reveal the climax. Suffice it to say that it is as exciting as it is full of quaint humor and that James Brown is as fascinating as Wally is dull. And of course there is a girl who seems Wally but falls in love with Brown.
